

Kensington Church's Response to the COVID-19 Situation:

Troy

May 29

Thank You Nancy Wurm

Sometimes in life you get to work alongside leaders that impact you far beyond what you could ever imagine. Nancy Wurm is one of those leaders for me and many others at Kensington. The work that Nancy and her husband Joe have done for Kensington over the years is extraordinary. The friendship, leadership, and mentorship she has shown me personally is precious and has been life changing. I write this to announce that Nancy has decided to step down from staff at Kensington after nearly 30 years to pursue ministry with Joe in the city of Detroit. We are forever grateful for their years of service and for Nancy's tireless efforts to advance the Kingdom of God and always be guiding people into the arms of Jesus. Here is a video message from me and our founder Steve Andrews celebrating the incredible heart, passion and leadership of Nancy.

Edge and Breakaway Update

Check out our Livestream on Sundays at 5pm where Aaron and Thaddeus discuss relevant topics and other fun things on Instagram: kcstudents.troy and YouTube: Kensington Students. Also, check out our Facebook group: Troy Student Ministries Facebook.

Stay Connected

As your church family, we are here for you every step of the way. Our Care Initiatives have new ways to connect and support while staying home. Learn more here.

Grief Recovery

Loss is always devastating, and the COVID-19 pandemic has created especially painful circumstances as people have experienced sudden loss and have not been able to say goodbye in hospitals or nursing homes, or hold funerals. Whether due to COVID-19 or other reasons, if you've lost a spouse, child, family member or friend, it may be hard to feel optimistic about anything. Grief Recovery, a study to guide you through grief and loss, is open to all, and led by people who have experienced loss themselves. Our next online session begins on June 8. Info and registration here.

Groups and Courses

This season of physical distancing can make it difficult to connect deeply, causing us to crave community. Virtual Groups and Courses (Alpha, Bible Basics, Financial Peace University) can bring you great content, real connection, and a place to develop new relationships. Visit kensingtonchurch.org/groups and filter your search to Meeting Online to find the right group for you.

Check out kensingtonchurch.org/rightnowmedia for free Bible study content and consider using the Bible app YouVersion for daily devotions and encouragement during this new rhythm.

Being the Church For Midland

Can you imagine a major flood in the middle of this pandemic? Our hearts are heavy for our fellow Michiganders to the north who have lost homes, businesses, and all their worldly possessions. We feel called to reach out to the city of Midland and its surrounding communities to meet needs and bring hope as they face this devastating situation. Kensington is partnering with one of our Move Out Teams, DRAW (Disaster Relief At Work), and the organization Convoy of Hope to provide essential supplies for immediate relief work and long-term recovery efforts. Join us in supporting Midland by giving here. Want to volunteer? Click here.

For more ways to love your neighbors and meet needs in the community, view current Move Out opportunities here.
